Add product to project and locations

Add a product to multiple locations

It is now possible to add a product directly to several or all locations in your projects. You do this by ticking the relevant locations. Previously, you could add a product to one location at a time.

Instant preview of your projects and locations

When you want to add a product to a project and locations, you will immediately see a preview of the products already placed in the project or locations. By clicking on these images, you can open the project and select the locations.

My projects environment

Sort your projects as you wish

In your My projects environment, you can now sort your list of current projects in different ways. The default sorting is alphabetical from A-Z, but it is also possible to sort the list by Z-A, last modified, last created and first created. This makes the environment even more personalised.

Search your projects easily

It is now possible to search the My projects environment by project name. On the right-hand side of the screen you will see a search bar allowing you to filter the projects by name. Here it is also possible to search by part of the project name. The number of results found for the search term you entered is visible above the list of search results. Via 'Clear filter' you clear the search term and see your entire project list again.

Add your project to your shopping cart directly

From the My projects environment, you can directly add an entire project to your shopping basket. Previously, this was only possible on the project page. As soon as you click on 'Add to cart', you are informed that all products of the project in question have been added to your shopping cart. If the project contains products that are no longer available at that time, you are notified that you have to remove them first.

Your project page with locations

Receive your project in your mail

It is now possible to receive your projects with all product information in your e-mail. Click on the arrow next to the project name and choose the desired file type (pdf with or without images and/or Excel) to send the file directly to yourself.
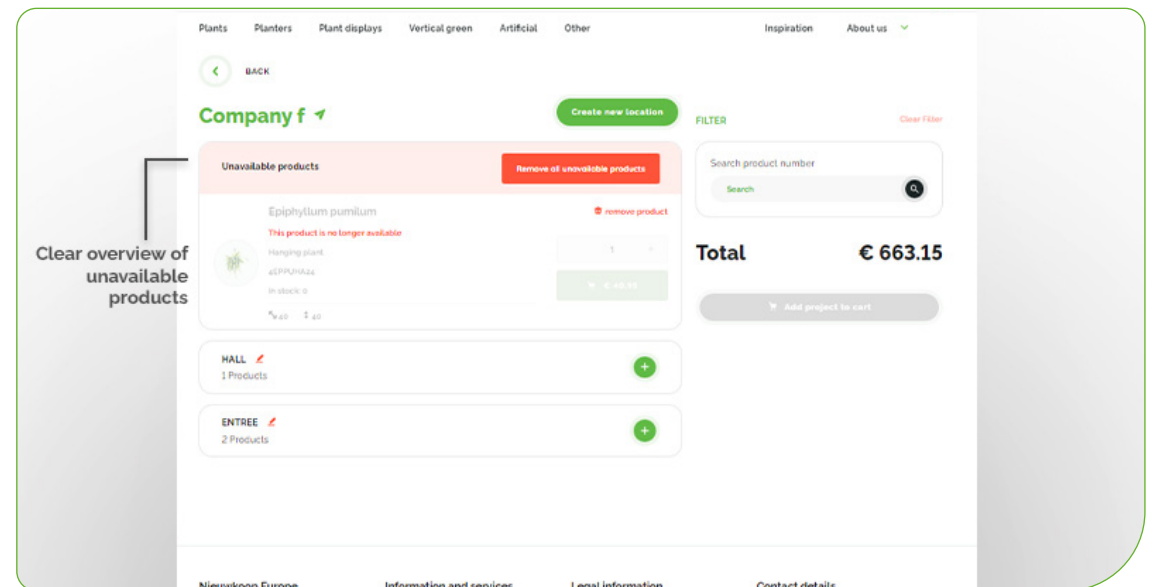

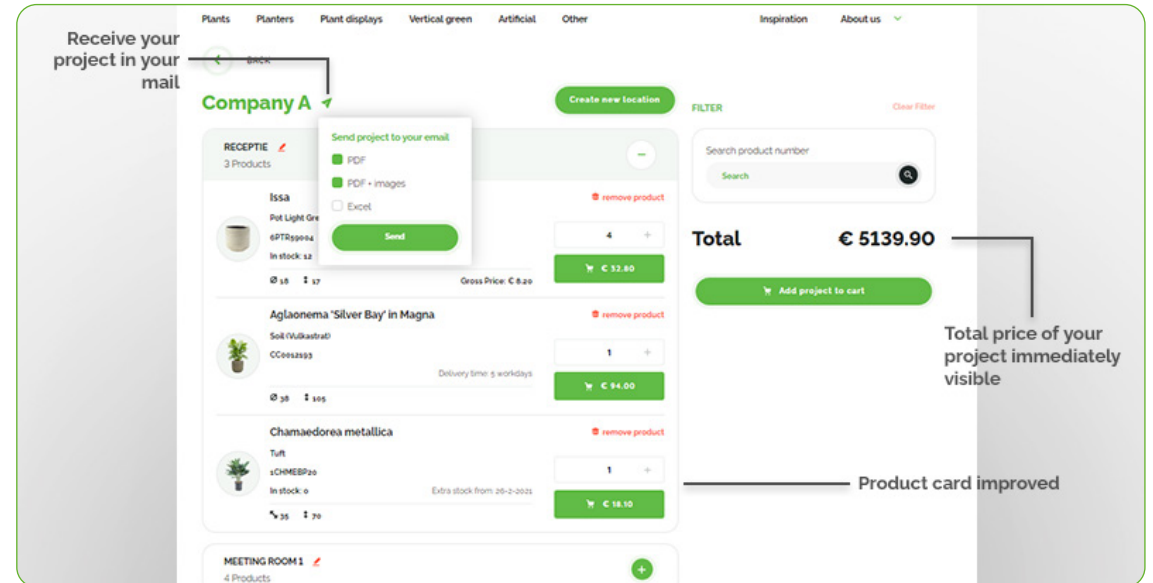

Total price of your project immediately visible

Every project page now shows the total price of the entire project. This price changes automatically when you add or remove products from the project. Unavailable products are not included in the visible total price.

Product card improved

When you expand a location, you see the product card, which now shows additional product information. For example, new or discounted products are shown with the appropriate label, and for products with an order quantity higher than 1, you now also see the gross price per piece. In addition, more stock and delivery time information is visible and you can click through to the corresponding product on the website via the product photos and names.

Clear overview of unavailable products

If one or more products in your project are not available, it is not possible to add this project to your shopping cart. After attempting to add that project to your shopping cart, you now see a clear overview of all products that are no longer available at the top of the page. You can easily remove these from your project at once, so that you can then add the project to your shopping cart.

Project reference visible in shopping cart

For products added to a project as of today, a reference to that project and its location will be visible when you place the project in your cart. This reference is also visible in the order details once the order is confirmed.

See the advised price of products and projects

As with all other prices on the website, the prices of products in projects also change automatically when using the Sales modus. This shows the advised price for products. The total price of your project also automatically changes accordingly.

Dynamic character limit visible

Several text fields, such as the project name, have a character limit. This limit is now indicated and counts up and down automatically when you are typing. This way you can immediately see how many characters you can still use.
